

AMY LAU
DESIGN

HUTSCHENREUTHER WHITE PORCELAIN VASE BY HEINRICH FUCHS

An "Archais" white bisque porcelain vase by Heinrich Fuchs for Hutschenreuther is beautifully sculptural. Heinrich Fuchs is particularly noted for his OP Art designs; from 1965-1970. Fuchs created a totally new aesthetic in porcelain for the prestigious Hutschenreuther manufactory. He is also well known for his Calabash and Archais series, which consisted of 15 different vases, each featuring a natural or geometric repeating surface, as well as bark and seashell textural surfaces, all glazed in matte or a clear gloss on white ground. This vase's design has unique yet simple curves that represent modern design. The sharp lines and sleek curves lead to captivating irregular shadow play over the vase's surface.

DESIGNER: Heinrich Fuchs
ORIGIN: Germany
CIRCA: 1960s
MATERIALS: ceramic

Height: 11.25"
Diameter: 3.5"

List: $1,400.00