

AMY LAU
DESIGN

PAIR OF FRITZ NAGEL AND CESAR STOFFI CHROME CANDLEHOLDERS

A pair of Nagel Variante Chrome Candle Holders in great condition. Fritz Nagel and César Stoffi met while studying at the School of Applied Arts in Zurich, Switzerland, and began working together shortly after graduating in 1956. In 1966, they set up their joint company, Nagel & Stoffi, and began producing metal sculptures from interlocking brass rods and balls. These sculptures were very popular in the 1960s and became collectors' items. Crafted with particular attention to detail in West Germany during the mid-century modern era, these chrome candle holders epitomize sleek sophistication. The chrome finish adds a touch of contemporary flair while exuding timeless charm. Each piece has a unique vase-like design, featuring clean lines and a minimalist aesthetic that effortlessly complements any decor style.

DESIGNER: Fritz Nagel and César Stoffi
ORIGIN: Germany
CIRCA: 1970s
MATERIALS: chrome plated metal

Height: 6.5"
Diameter: 3"

List: $800.00